Okay, we provided advice to the emergency manager and 22 A. And I'm just thinking about how I can frame my answer 23 the City of Detroit on the relative value of each 23 give me a minute. 24 claim that need to be settled, the manner in which the 24 BY MR. SOTO: 25 negotiations should be handled, constructing the 25 Q. Please Page 96 Page 94 1 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 2 2 A. All right, would you please repeat the question? various offers to those creditors for settlement 3 3 purposes, assisting the emergency manager in Q. Sure, and maybe I can make it clearer. What I'm 4 negotiations with creditors to arrive at acceptable 4 trying to determine and see if you have facts on --5 5 transactions. facts on is the process and the elements that went 6 6 We did substantial analysis of all into distinguishing classes 10 and 11 as compared to 7 proposals provided to us by the different class 9 and the recoveries that they were going to 8 constituencies and insured along with other 8 9 9 consultants to the City that the settlements in A. I see. Well, as a purely financial or banking matter, 10 10 it was our judgment that the status of the class 9 totality would allow the City to propose a feasible 11 11 claims and the pension and so-called OPEB claims was 12 Q. Did Miller Buckfire have a role in developing the 12 basically the same, that is they were general 13 13 unsecured claims of the City of lesser priority than proposed treatment of each of the classes of unsecured 14 claims that we just read about in the disclosure 14 the general obligation claims, certain other claims of 15 statement? 15 the City. And so that was the starting point of our 16 16 analysis and indeed was the basis for the City's A. Yes. 17 Q. And what was Miller Buckfire's role in that? 17 original proposal in June of '13 where all these 18 18 claims would be in the same pool and would share pro A. It's what I just testified to. 19 19 O. The same? rata. 20 20 It also became clear to us that as part of A. Yes. 21 21 Q. Did you have a personal role in that? our financial analysis that even though we believed 22 22 that the claims were general unsecured claims, the A. In several of the negotiations, yes. 23 23 fact that the COPs claims were indirect obligations of Q. And also in proposing the treatment of each of the 24 24 the City and not direct obligations to the City had to classes? 25 be given some consideration, and that is how we ende A. Yes.

Page 99 Page 97 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 1 2 up recommending to the emergency manager that only 40 2 how you put it, how would the fact that those clients 3 3 percent of the COPs claims be allowed because we were have claims against the service corporations uncertain about what their ultimate status would be 4 differentiate in their mind? 5 because again, I'm -- I'm making a legal conclusion, 5 A. Well, the City was not the direct obligor of the COPs 6 but the claim of the COPs against the service That was the whole point of the transactions, it was corporations would result in the service 7 an indirect obligor. 8 corporations's claim being an asset of the COPs and Q. So you were taking into account the fact that the that was sufficiently in dispute as to a financial 9 service corporations would still be there to be able 10 matter as to what value would be, we felt 40 percent 10 pay those obligations? 11 was the appropriate allowed claim. 11 A. To the extent they had assets to do so, that's 12 Then the distinction we had to draw with 12 13 the class 10 and 11 claims had to take into account 13 Q. Okay. Did you take into account the fact that they 14 from a financial matter, the proposed treatment of 14 would only have assets, that the --15 OPEB as a practical matter from the City's prospective 15 (Electronic telephone statement: Chris 16 the financial obligations due to its retirees were 16 Filburn, Paul Weiss, has left the conference. 17 both pension and healthcare related and because we 17 A. I'm sorry, could you --18 were proposing to substantially impair or eliminate 18 MR. CULLEN: He'll be missed. 19 our healthcare plans and in consideration for doing so 19 BY MR. SOTO: 20 move our retirees to new insurance programs of much 20 Q. Now I've lost it all, Chris. Let's start again. 21 lesser cost, that resulted in a very large claim, but 21 Did you take into account the fact that the 22 therefore, as a practical matter, rather than 22 sources of revenue for the service corporations to pay 23 throwing -- using the OPEB claim and the pension 23 the COPs holders was also going to be affected by the claims to be pari passu with respect to recovery. 24 plan? 25 Part of the settlement discussion with the retiree --25 A. Yes, I did. Page 100 Page 98 1 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 1 KENNETH BUCKFIRE. VOLUME 2 2 I'm trying to be careful --2 Q. So recognizing that if the service corporations had no 3 3 MR. CULLEN: Okay. money to pay the COPs holders, you still took that as 4 4 A. -- from a financial prospective, we viewed those a distinction in allowing only 40 percent? 5 5 claims as being part of the same pool for purposes of 6 arranging an overall recovery and therefore how that 6 Q. And were there any other factors that I missed in that 7 recovery would be applied would be up to the exchange? 8 beneficiaries which is now reflected in the plan of 8 9 9 adjustment. Then you went on to talk about the proposed treatment 10 10 BY MR. SOTO: of OPEB, and I just want to make sure it's clear for 11 Q. Let me break that down. That was a --11 the record or at least I understand it. So you took 12 12 into account the fact that here were another group of 13 13 Q. -- pretty cool answer so -unsecured creditors who were going to be impacted 14 A. It's complicated. 14 because you were affecting their pensions and their 15 Q. So taking -- taking the first thing that you 15 healthcare, correct? 16 16 highlighted, you highlighted the distinction between A. Correct. 17 direct and indirect claims and the class 9 claims you 17 Q. Is there anything else you took into account? 18 viewed as indirect and there were other direct claims. 18 A. I'm not sure how I can answer this question. Can I 19 19 You said that led to you -- and again, if I'm saying just ask? 20 20 something wrong, you correct me, you said that allowed Q. Sure, please. 21 to allowing only 40 percent of that claim. 21 (Counsel confers with the witness.) 22 2.2 So can you explain to me what analysis you MR. HACKNEY: What was the last question? 23 23 did of what analysis you did of what those claimants MR. SOTO: Anything else he took into 24 24 you mentioned that they had claim -- it would result account other than the fact that there's a pension and 25 25 healthcare? in claims against the surface corporations is I think

Page 107 Page 105 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 2 In the context of -- of the plan of 2 analysis which began last January which we were 3 3 adjustment that is at issue in this matter now, I intimately involved in along with Ernst & Young and understand it's going to be amended or at least we've 4 Conway MacKenzie. been told it is, but as it exists that you can testify 5 So that leads you to first determine well 6 about, were you involved in analyzing how that plan how much do you really have available once you take met the best interests tests from an investment into account that set of requirements to eliminate 8 8 banker's standpoint? service insolvency, that leaves you with a projected 9 A. Yes. 9 stream of cash flow which is available for in this 10 Q. And the "you" I was referring to there was Miller 10 context fixed and unfixed debt obligations and from 11 Buckfire, but I'm going to ask you again, you 11 that, we then calculate what's available to satisfy our creditors pursuant to the best interests test. 12 personally and Miller Buckfire, both? 12 13 13 Q. And so you determined what services this is my 14 14 Q. Okay. What was your personal participation in that understanding of what you just said and tell me if I'm 15 15 wrong, you determine what services the City has to 16 A. Well, I've reviewed proposed treatment of our 16 give, ought to be giving, or isn't giving that it 17 creditors consistently since last June. I've been 17 should be giving, or is giving too many, you look at 18 involved in discussions involving recommendations to 18 the services that the City as a City; you start with 19 the emergency manager for proposed settlements to make 19 20 20 sure they were consistent with those provisions. A. Correct. 21 Q. Would you agree that a municipality in a chapter 9 in 21 Q. And then once you determine, you know, what those are, 22 connection with the best interests test should make 22 along with all these people that you mentioned 23 reasonable efforts to repay creditors? 23 earlier, the mayor and everyone else, then you see, 24 24 well, what are the revenues that the City has to A. Yes. 25 Q. And in -- and I understand that you're wearing two 25 address those? Page 106 Page 108 1 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 1 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 2 2 hats here, and I'm going to ask you an opinion A. Well, the revenue analysis on which our financial 3 3 question because you're an expert or being proffered conclusions are based is obviously very critical to 4 4 feasibility of the plan, itself. Once you understand as an expert, as well. What constitutes a reasonable 5 5 effort to repay creditors in your opinion? how confident you can be in the revenues of the City 6 6 A. In a municipal context? on a projected very long basis then you have to apply In the context of this municipal bankruptcy. those revenues necessary costs to providing essential 8 services to the citizens of Detroit, and of course a 9 9 Q. Which is unique as you testified -central element of the plan was effectively a new 10 10 A. Yes. program of the reinvestment to take into account the 11 Q. -- at length yesterday. 11 severe underinvestment by the City in those services 12 A. Well, recognizing that it is a unique bankruptcy in 12 for decades which had been a major factor, itself, in 13 13 many ways, we believe and advised the emergency the decline of the City by encouraging businesses and 14 manager and indeed the State of Michigan from the 14 citizens to leave. 15 beginning of our engagement including, by the way, the 15 So by reestablishing adequate services to 16 mayor of the City of Detroit, I should have said that, 16 address the service insolvency issue, that had a 17 too, that designing a plan that would take into 17 certain cost associated with it. 18 account the City's best ability to repay its creditors 18 A. Once that cost is taken into account, then you have 19 19 had to start with the premise that the City was whatever you have left over from revenues and that is 20 effectively service insolvent and that whatever was 20 therefore available to satisfy our obligations to our 21 available to repay creditors from the cash flows of 21 creditors. 22 22 Q. And I think you said it in a way that I understood, so the City, that is, the revenues of the City, was 23 really only available after taking into account the 23 you start by figuring out what the basic services 24 cost of the revitalization/rehabilitation of the City, 24 should be in a plan that you think is going to work 25 25 that's going to be meeting the tests we talked about, itself, and that was the beginning point of our

Page 111 Page 109 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 1 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 2 2 and after you determine the cost of that, and you creditors? 3 3 think the real revenues are, then you can decide well, A. Not independent of what's been disclosed in the what's left over for the creditors? 4 disclosure statement and plan. 5 A. Correct. And of course, we also look at whether there 5 Q. So in specifics, what do you believe was done to 6 6 are other sources of repayment. Certain noncore ensure that the treatment of the class 9 creditors 7 assets that might be monetizable, might not, all 7 was -- was fair and equitable? 8 8 disclosed in our original June 2013 report. A. Well, leaving aside the legal issues, which I'm not 9 MR. CULLEN: 2014. 9 competent to speak to, the allowed claim of 40 percent 10 THE WITNESS: No, June of '13. 10 as being allowed to participate pro rata with all 11 11 MR. CULLEN: I'm sorry. other similarly situated claims with respect to B note 12 BY MR. SOTO: 12 recovery, so I believe that satisfies the test. 13 Q. You mentioned the June 2013 report, and I have only 13 Q. And anything else other than that? 14 14 one question left that wasn't asked yesterday in some A. No. 15 15 way, and that is have you done an analysis of that Q. Moving on to the objection regarding good faith and 16 report since then to update it? 16 your understanding of it, let me hand you an exhibit. 17 A. Well, everything we've been doing has been based on 17 We'll put this in context. 18 MARKED FOR IDENTIFICATION: the conclusions we laid out in that report in June of 18 19 19 2013. So it's been the roadmap and effectively the DEPOSITION EXHIBIT 29 20 strategy for the rehabilitation of the City since it 20 10:27 a.m. 21 was first made public last year. We haven't done a 21 BY MR SOTO: 22 22 Q. Okay, Mr. Buckfire, you've been handed what has been further analysis because it has been superseded by the 23 23 marked as Exhibit 29, and it is an e-mail from you, analysis provided in the plan of adjustment and the 24 24 disclosure statement. Kenneth Buckfire, dated Tuesday, July 30th, 2013, to 25 25 Q. So the plan of adjustment disclosure statement is a Bennett Bruce -- or I guess that's Bruce Bennett and Page 110 Page 112 1 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 2 progeny of the June 13th plan? 2 David Heiman (ph.)? 3 3 A. That's right. A. That's right. 4 Q. Is there anything that you now look back on in seeing 4 Q. And the subject is Christie's and the DIA. Could you 5 that June '13 -- June 2013 plan that you think we were 5 take a few moments to take a look at that to refresh 6 6 your recollection of that if you need to? wrong? 7 7 A. The City was wrong? A. My recollection is refreshed. 8 Q. Well, you as an investment banker, I don't attribute 8 Q. Okay. So I'm going to ask you some specific questions 9 9 all of that to the City. but in general. Do you remember this process? 10 A. I thought we would have more cooperation from the 10 A. Yes. 11 Counties in creating the authority than we did. 11 Q. What was this e-mail part of? 12 12 Q. All right, let's -- anything else? A. Can I ask a question to my counsel for a second? 13 13 Q. Sure, please. 14 14 Q. Let's go on to the next one. So one of the other COPs (Counsel confers with witness .) 15 15 holders' objections is that the plan is not fair and A. Just wanted to make sure. Well, very early on in our 16 16 engagement with the City, I was made aware of the fac equitable and you -- you gave and you gave me your 17 17 that the Detroit Institute of Arts was effectively not understanding of what you understood that to mean. 18 Q. Would you agree that the COPs holders' claims, the 18 a separate institution but, in fact, was owned by the 19 19 class 9 claims, are considered an impaired class? City, although, it was operated by the DIA Trustee 20 20 Corporation, the building and collection was A. From a financial perspective, I would deem them 21 21 technically owned by the City of Detroit. We 22 22 Q. Other than what you've testified about today and recognized early on that that would require it under 23 23 yesterday, did you undertake an analysis to ensure certain scenarios to be valued as a potential noncore 24 24 that the fair and equitable standard was -- was being asset and dealt with appropriately if it was 25 25 determined that the City would have to seek protection satisfied with respect to the treatment of the class 9

Page 139 Page 137 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 1 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 2 2 cooperation of the operators and the trustees than A. No, we had no idea, just it would have to be a big 3 3 over their objections because they made it very clear number. to us that they would fight us to the ends of the 4 Q. When did the -- I know I have this somewhere in my 5 earth if we touched the collection even though it 5 papers, but do you have in your head when Christie's 6 6 actually came out with its assessment? belonged to the City. 7 Q. Let me -- let me give you an again this is related to 7 A. This is great. 14 answered this, did you have anything in particular in 15 BY MR. SOTO: 15 mind when you used the word dramatic? 16 Q. Exhibit 31, and I will tell you the Bates number, it 16 A. A big number. 17 is POA 00041062. And it is an e-mail from -- from 17 Q. Okay. This is -- these have become sort of favorite 18 Kenneth Buckfire to Gene Gargaro, dated Monday, April 18 phrases, I've been to just a few hearings on this 19 19 29, 2013, subject, DIA visit. Simple statement in it matter, but I've heard these questions asked, so I'm 20 20 and very consistent with your personality here in this going to ask you since I've heard other people ask 21 21 them. Do you know if Miller Buckfire and you did deposition, you say the DIA is an important cultural 22 22 anything to find out what the 100 most valuable pieces asset and the board should be proposing something 23 23 of art were in the DIA? dramatic, not just about refurbishing the parking 24 24 A. Me personally? garage. What did you mean by that? 25 25 A. That's the first time I've laughed in two days. Q. Well, not just you personally, but you and/or Miller Page 138 Page 140 1 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 1 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 2 2 Buckfire, did you guys undertake any other steps other MR. HACKNEY: I was going to say we were 3 aligned with you on that one, Mr. Buckfire. 3 than undertaking Christie's? 4 4 A. No, we're not experts in this field, we have no basis A. I had a meeting with them, and they said well, what do 5 5 you think we should do? I said well, you notice that upon which to make that judgement. 6 the parking garage is dilapidated and condemned 6 Q. And I assume that the answer is still the same, but 7 because nobody spent any money on it. Why don't you I'll ask again. Do you know if you or Miller Buckfire 8 offer it as part of your proposal to spend the money 8 took any steps to try to figure out which of the 9 9 to renovate it so people will come visit your museum, pieces of art were valued at more than a million 10 10 and they said oh, what a great idea, and I said no, dollars, you know, which -- or which were 11 but you got to do more than that. 11 considered -- let me strike that and start again. 12 Q. Okay. So this was your meeting with Mr. Gargaro where 12 Let's start it this way: Do you know if 13 13 you were again discussing some alternatives with you or Miller Buckfire took any steps to find out what 14 respect to the maximization of that asset? 14 the 100 most valuable pieces of art were within the 15 A. Yeah, this was after our first meeting, actually, we 15 DIA collection? 16 had had a first discussion of the issues, and I had 16 A. No, aside from retaining Christie's. 17 urged them to think about doing something that would 17 Q. Do you know if you or anyone at Miller Buckfire took 18 justify conveying the collection into an authority. 18 any steps to determine which of the pieces of art 19 19 Q. And at this point, you didn't have -- you still or -within the DIA had some restrictions on alienation or 20 you know what, let me ask you the question instead of 20 use or transfer? 21 answering it. 21 22 2.2 Did you have any idea in your head at this Q. And again, you would have been relying on Christie's 23 point around April 2013, April 29, 2013, of, you know, 23 for some of those things? 24 24 gee, what would be the right value that the City would A. Correct. 25 25 need to get in order to be able to convey that asset? Q. So as you sit here today, do you know if Christie's

No. Well, yes, I'm sorry, yes, no one has done the 11 intelligent factual witness can I ask you what 12 12 discount rate would you use if you were sitting there 13 Q. Okay. And can you -- can you tell me why -- wouldn't 13 and someone well what do you think the present value 14 14 you want to know you're taking the art today, what are is of this 360 -- well let's just add it together 15 15 they giving me today? because it's round numbers 466 million over 20 years 16 A. Mm-hmm. 16 what do you think the present value of this is what 17 O Would you want to know that? 17 discount rate would you use? 18 18 A. In certain circumstances I would, but one of the A. Well, when you look at the quality of the funding 19 elements of the Christie's valuation which you haven't 19 parties, I think it would be appropriate for example 20 asked me yet is over what period of time they would 20 with the State of Michigan since they are a double A 21 anticipate monetizing the collection to realize those 21 rated credit to use a very low discount rate 22 values if indeed we had directed them to do so so even 22 equivalent to their credit rating, standing to come to 23 though they gave us a valuation range which is in the 23 a present value of their contribution. Like wise, all 24 24 POA, I don't believe they stipulated in this analysis the foundations because they are large, and are well 25 25 or this report how long it would take and what they funded and have no, as I understand it, external debt Page 170 Page 172 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 2 2 did tell us which I believe is in their original would also merit a very low discount rate to reflect 3 3 report, it would take several years to quote monetize the present value of their future contributions. I 4 the value of the art that they reflected in their can't speak to the discount rate with respect to the 5 5 range so the range in and of itself is not present individual members of the DIA board of trustees, but 6 6 value adjusted and for that reason we did not feel my understanding is they're all very wealthy local business people and other professionals who probably necessary to calculate the present value of the 8 payment stream relative to the value of the art would merit an equally low discount rate on their 9 9 because the art rate, itself, was perhaps not done contributions, that would lead me to conclude without 10 10 according to Black Sholes (ph.). It's a number but saying I've done the work because I haven't except for 11 it's a number with a lot of judgement around when you 11 the last 30 seconds that the discount rate I would use 12 would realize that. That also was a function of the 12 would be probably somewhere between 2 to 4 percent 13 And that would only reflect the fact that the wide nature of range gap. I mean it's a pretty wide 13 14 14 contributions were coming in over four -- 20 years. 15 Q. So it's your understanding, and I want to to make sure 15 Q. And by that last statement, just to help me understand 16 what you said when Christie's gave these values, they 16 what you meant by that, if it was over a shorter 17 17 weren't saying that's the value of that piece of art amount of time you would change the discount rate? 18 if you want to buy it today? 18 A. I'd have had a much lower discount rate. 19 19 A. That's correct, they're saying when we go and properly Q. And if it's longer --20 find the art and find the right buyer there might be A. You'd have to use a higher one. 21 one buyer in the world for every piece, we believe 21 Thank you 22 22 this is the price we'll get for you. A. You're welcome. 23 23 Q. I'm going to switch gears if this is a good time for Q. And do you know where in their report they -- they 24 24 you to break, we can, switch gears to your expert 25 A. Now we discussed in general terms the best going to ask the question from the standpoint of the 24 24 interest -- a little earlier and I want to circle back creditors and since you know who I represent we 25 represent FGIC so that would be one of the class 9 25 for a second. Parted of the test is determining Page 174 Page 176 1 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 2 2 whether the proposed plan would be better alternative creditors so you can even aim at that if you are predisposed to or you can even ask it in general if 3 for creditors, than what they would have if the plant 3 4 4 weren't -- weren't -- if the plan weren't passed. So you want to and we can get to that later but what I'm 5 5 part of that analysis that you have in your expert asking for is what analysis, what went into your 6 6 report, of whether or not the creditors would be thinking in your opinion that the City's creditors 7 would in your view be better off particularly class 9 better off that took into account some of the issues 8 you took into account in the best issues test, creditors if the plan of adjustment were approved as 9 9 correct? opposed to if it were dismissed? 10 10 A. Well, it's a complex question because you have to A. Correct. 11 Q. So looking at your opinion which is opinion B, and 11 consider the alternative, which is that the City 12 12 it's on page 2, and it says: Plan treatment compared cannot undertake a rehabilitation program and maintain 13 13 or improve its tax revenues. The alternative and to treatment upon dismissal, the City's creditors 14 14 would be treated better under the City's plan of likely true that in fact the City will begin to 15 adjustment than if the bankruptcy were dismissed, do 15 liquidate itself, by that I mean the residents and 16 16 businesses will leave the tax revenues will decline you see that? 17 17 but the expense of the stiff with cannot be made to A. So is it your understanding that the reserve -- the 3 3 contracts, correct? total amount of reserve on a nominal basis is 162 4 A. I am. 4 million in B notes? 5 Q. And do you understand that those are direct claims 5 A. I'd have to go back and check the math against that 6 6 That's my general recollection. But I have to go back against the City? A. I do. 7 and verify it. 8 8 Q. Do you remember that there was conversation with Q. Okay. 9 Mr. Soto about the fact that there is $162 million in 9 A. I haven't looked at that in a while. 10 B notes, face value B notes going to the -- the class 10 Q. Is that the total amount that's going into the reserve 13 out to you as ones that are present valued or 14 14 established for class 9 or is that the present value represent nominal amounts? Like look at the OPEB 15 15 UAAL, is the 450 million -- do you remember, isn't of the total face value? Because in my mind there is 16 -- something's not adding up there and so I want to 16 that 450 in face B notes? 17 17 A. Yes. try and understand it. 18 A. Well, when you say it's not adding up, what is it not 18 Q. Okay, does that lead you to believe that the other 19 19 numbers you've represented on the pro forma are face 20 20 Q. So I thought that the way it worked was that a reserve value B notes? 21 21 was set up --A. Hold on a second. I'm just -- you want to know 22 22 whether these are present value numbers or nominal A. Mm-hmm. 23 23 Q. -- and that the reserve was on a nominal basis without numbers --24 24 present valuing 15 percent of the total amount of COPs Q. What is your general understanding? 18 A. Correct, I did. 19 A. That it's under certain circumstances a creditor might 19 Q. And what did he tell you? 20 seek a judgment requiring the City to raise taxes. 20 A. You know, I've reviewed his expert report and I've 21 21 talked to him over months about these issues. His 22 22 conclusion was that because the City already has very A. But whenever we -- I don't recall discussing this 23 23 issue, I was quickly reminded that the City already high tax rates, any further increase in rates would 24 24 certainly lead to a decline of revenue but that a has the highest property tax rates in the State of 25 maintenance of rates was probably sustainable from Michigan and that even if we wanted to raise taxes and

| 2  | Well, there were very different facts and               | 2  | emergency manager was soliciting requests for           |
| 3  | circumstances surrounding that. I don't believe that    | 3  | proposal.   |
| 4  | in any way helps understand what the City would have    | 4  | MR. BALL: The RFP has been produced, it's               |
| 5  | to do to borrow money in a dismissal situation, which   | 5  | produced in the case.                                   |

| 15 | not want less than that, right?                         | 15 | what I mean is you remember how you had a conversation  |
| 16 | A. Depends on the demand for the financing.             | 16 | earlier about the fact that the regional authority      |
| 17 | Q. Do you think that the exit facility might be         | 17 | might entail a sale lease-back with a $47 million      |

| 14 | A. There are two different rates we use different         | 14 | MR. HACKNEY: Did you cover this yesterday?              |
| 15 | rates for PFRS and GRS, so which rate are you talking     | 15 | MR. CULLEN: Yes.  |
| 16 | about?  | 16 | MR. HACKNEY: So because the exit financing              |
| 17 | Q. Let's do it this way. Let me see if I can speed it     | 17 | is an ongoing process you're asserting effectively a    |
| 18 | up. When you calculated the pension UAAL at 3.129         | 18 | commercial sensitivity privilege to                     |
| 19 | billion, for that you relied on the presentation in       | 19 | MR. CULLEN: Yes.  |

| 21 | A. Yes.   | 21 | efforts in connection with the exit financing?          |
| 22 | Q. Similarly for OPEB UAAL you calculated that to be      | 22 | MR. CULLEN: Yes.  |
| 23 | 4.303 billion and you similarly relied on its             | 23 |   |
| 24 | presentation in the plan for that number, correct?        | 24 | MR. HACKNEY: So I'll note for the record,               |
| 25 | A. Yes.   | 25 | Mr. Cullen, what I could see I certainly see the        |
|    |   |    | logic of it because it's ongoing, on the other hand we  |

| 7  | A. Yes, it went out on Friday.                            | 7  | moot.   |
| 8  | Q. It went out on Friday?                                 | 8  | MR. HACKNEY: That's probably true, maybe                |
| 9  | A. Yes.   | 9  | we'll stand in awe of it.                               |
| 10 | Q. You were waiting on approval of the treasurer's office | 10 | MR. CULLEN: The world will be different                 |
| 11 | before that went out?                                     | 11 | once it's done.   |
| 12 | A. That was yes. First, we were waiting for the           | 12 | THE WITNESS: As I mentioned                             |
| 13 | legislation to pass in Lansing establishing an            | 13 | MR. HACKNEY: I'm just going to reserve on               |
| 14 | oversight commission, and that was not done until June    | 14 | that so we can get past it.                             |
| 15 | 20th I think it was, and then we wanted to make sure      | 15 | MR. CULLEN: No, and and                                 |
| 16 | that the state treasurer's office agreed with the         | 16 | MR. BALL: As we have.                                   |
| 17 | amount of borrowing the City was attempting to seek,      | 17 | MR. CULLEN: And Robin didn't roll over and              |
| 18 | and of course the holiday intervened with that so it      | 18 | beg either so   |
| 19 | didn't go out until last Friday.                          | 19 | BY MR. HACKNEY:   |
| 20 | Q. Got it. Okay. And you are following a similar          | 20 | Q. I'm sorry.   |
| 21 | process to the one you did on the postpetition            | 21 | A. I mentioned in my testimony my testimony yesterday   |
| 22 | financing which is to say that you send out a             | 22 | I did indicate that we'd already sent it out to 15      |
| 23 | solicitation letter and then you get back first           | 23 | parties   |
| 24 | nonbinding indications of interest from potential         | 24 | Q. Okay.  |
| 25 | lenders and you evaluate them and then go to the next     | 25 | A which we've been talking with for months and that     |
